~ Disaster Prevention Guide & Map ~

If you are new in Japan and have not experienced natural disasters such as an earthquake before, you may find it difficult to imagine what they are really like. This easy-to-understand booklet provides you with information on the basics about disasters, how to respond to them and how to be prepared for them, as well as the maps that present evacuation shelters and sites where you can take refuge in the event of disasters.

Earthquake

An earthquake is the shaking of the ground.
Buildings may collapse in large earthquakes.

If you are indoors when a quake strikes

- Crawl under a desk/table and protect yourself.
- Once the shaking stops:
 1. Turn off cooking devices and heaters.
 2. Turn off circuit breakers.
 3. Evacuate to evacuation places shown on pp.13 - 24.

If you are outdoors when a quake strikes

- Walls and vending machines may fall over.

Broken glass fragments or roof tiles may fall on you.

Evacuate to evacuation places shown on pp.13 - 24 while watching out for things that might fall onto you.

How to be prepared for earthquakes

- Secure your furniture.

It may fall over due to an earthquake.

- Don't place objects on top of tall furniture.

They may fall off.

- Install a fire seismometric circuit breaker.

※A seismometric circuit breaker is a device to cut off electricity automatically when big quakes are detected.

Fire

Heaters and cigarettes may cause fire, if you do not put them out properly.

Be careful with fire.

If a fire occurs

Call 『119』

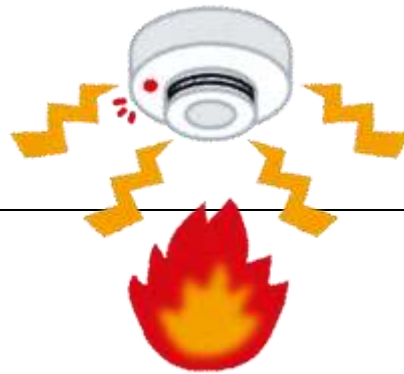

1. If you find a fire, alert people nearby in a loud voice.
Call 119.
2. If the flames are small, work with the people around you to extinguish it.
3. When the fire gets bigger, evacuate to a safe place.
※If the fire gets so big as to spread to the neighboring houses, evacuate to an evacuation place listed on pp.13-24.
※Smoke from a fire is harmful to your body.

When evacuating, cover your mouth and nose with a towel or a handkerchief and keep yourself low.

How to be prepared for a fire

- Don't leave flammable items around heating appliances.
- Install a fire alarm.
※A fire alarm is a machine to alert you with a big siren in the event of a fire.

Tsunami

In the event of a tsunami

Earthquakes may generate large tsunamis.

A tsunami approaches very fast.

After an earthquake, evacuate to a higher place away from the sea and river.

Heavy Rain

If it rains a lot, river water may overflow the banks. The water may not only carry people and things away but also come into houses.

In the event of heavy rain

- If river water overflows the banks, the water will run into houses and basements.

To avoid being trapped inside or carried away, move to an evacuation site (pp, 13 -24) in advance.

If the road is already underwater, go up

To the second floor or higher of the building.

- When evacuating, do not go near rivers.
- When evacuating, wear shoes that are easy to walk in and keep both your hands free.
- Landslides may occur. Do not go near a hill or a cliff.

Typhoon

As a typhoon approaches,
rain gets heavier and winds get stronger.

Typhoons come to Japan between summer and fall.

If winds become stronger

- A strong wind may blow objects around and pose danger to people.

It may also break electric wires and cause power outages.

- Bring in any outdoor objects that could be blown away by the wind.

- As the sea level may rise, don't go near the sea.

- Glass windows may break due to wind or flying objects. Close the curtains or shutters.

Cover glass windows with anti-scattering films.

Infectious diseases

To prevent the spread of a virus

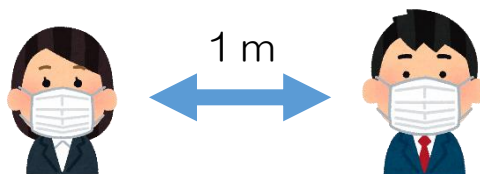

- Open doors or windows to ventilate the room.

- Avoid crowded settings.

- When you go out, wear a mask and keep at least 1-meter distance between yourself and others.

- Wash your hands when you come home and before meals.

Getting information

Disaster Emergency Message Dial “171”

- In the event of an earthquake or a typhoon, your phone calls may not get through smoothly. It is a service to enable you to leave a message to your family members and friends.

<How to use>

○Recording a message to your family members and friends:

①	Dial “171”.
②	Press “1”.
③	Enter your phone number.
④	Record your message.

○Listening to messages left by your family members or friends:

①	Dial “171”.
②	Press “2”.
③	Enter the phone number of the person you want to hear the message from.
④	Play back the message.

※You can record a message up to 30 seconds.

Disaster Prevention Map / List of Evacuation Places

Maps and lists of evacuation places are on pp.15 – 24.

On this page, you'll find what each term means and how to read the maps and lists.

Emergency Evacuation Sites and Evacuation Shelters

Emergency Evacuation Sites

They are places which you can evacuate to in case a disaster has occurred or is predicted

For these facilities, ○ marks are in the relevant boxes of A – F on the List of Evacuation Places.

A...flooding of rivers B...Landslide

C...Storm surge D...Earthquake

E...Tsunami F...Big fire

Evacuation Shelters

They are the places where evacuees can stay for a while because of the damaged conditions of their homes and other reasons.

For these facilities, ● marks are put before their names.

Welfare Evacuation Centers

These facilities are indicated with  marks on the maps.

The facilities accept only those who have difficulty in staying at the evacuation shelters, including people who need nursing care or have disabilities.

Please note that you cannot evacuate to these facilities directly.
